

Decent work worldwide
Le travail décent dans le monde
El trabajo decente en el mundo

04/05/2022 | 9:30 – 13:00

JDE 61

DECENT WORK WORLDWIDE AND MANDATORY DUE DILIGENCE FOR BUSINESS SUSTAINABILITY: WHY THE NEW COMMUNITY FRAMEWORK

PROGRAM

9.30-9.40 a.m. Opening

EESC institutional representative: president of study group SOC 727

Ionuț Sibian, Gr. III

9.40-9.50 a.m. Presentation of the EESC initiative on decent work worldwide

María del Carmen Barrera, Member Gr. II, rapporteur for opinion SOC/727

9.50-10.20 a.m. The European Commission's new action plan to promote decent worldwide

Dr Cristóbal Molina Navarrete, professor of labour and social security law, University of Jaén (Spain), director of the Andalusian Laboratory-Observatory for Psychosocial Risks (IAPRL), expert appointed by the rapporteur

Benedict Buenker, DG EMPL, European Commission

10.20- 10.35 a.m. The ILO action programme to promote decent work worldwide

ILO representative: Lieve Verboven, ILO Brussels Director

10.35-10.45 a.m. The challenges of the green transition in terms of decent work and due diligence

Dr Margarita Miñarro Yanin, senior lecturer, labour and social security law, Universitat Jaume I, Castelló (Spain), responsible for LABORCLIMA Research Group

10.45-11 a.m. Break

11-11.15 a.m. The due diligence directive as a tool for achieving decent work

Dr Adoración Guamán, senior lecturer, labour and social security law, University of Valencia (Spain)

Antje Gerstein, EESC rapporteur for the INT/973 opinion on Sustainable corporate governance

11.15-11.30 a.m. A holistic approach to occupational health for the promotion of decent work

Dr Loïc Lerouge, director of research at CNRS, Centre for Comparative Labour and Social Security Law (COMPTRASEC), University of Bordeaux

11.30-11.50 a.m. Decent work worldwide in terms of equality for all

Dr Ferrán Camas Roda, professor of labour and social security law, University of Girona

Helder Ferreira, director EAPN

11.50 a.m.-12.20 p.m. Role of social partners and collective bargaining in promoting decent work and due diligence for sustainability

Dr Emanuel Dagnino, University of Bergamo, coordinator of the working group overseeing the Smart Working Observatory

Contribution by social partners: representatives of international trade union and employer organisations

-ETUC: Claes-Mikael STAHL, Deputy General Secretary

-Business Europe: Rebekah Smith, Deputy Director in the Social Affairs department

12.20-12.50 p.m. Statements by EESC members, discussion and questions

12.50-1 p.m. Conclusions and closing statement by Mari Barrera Chamorro, rapporteur for the opinion
